

IN THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace the Abstract, as amended in the response to the office action mailed September 7, 2005, with the following Abstract:

A medical electrical lead includes a glue segment to adhere the lead to a treatment site. The glue segment, which may be disposed within a tip electrode of the lead, includes tissue adhesive which may be encapsulated within a capsule.